Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Elementary Designation: Adequate

Ries Elementary School has been classified as a school which demonstrated Adequate Yearly Progress during the 2007-2008 school year. Classification as demonstrating AYP is due to the schools meeting all No Child Left Behind criteria in the areas of English language arts (ELA), mathematics, and the school-wide other indicator.

Summary of Standards-Based Test Performance

Nevada uses criterion referenced tests (CRTs) to measure student achievement relative to Nevada's academic standards. This table reflects a compilation of test results for grades represented at this school and may not represent the figures that were used to determine this school's Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). Mathematics, Reading, and Writing test results are used to determine AYP. The belief that parents should have an active role in their children's school is a hallmark of the philosophy at Aldeane Ries Elementary school. Parents are encouraged to become involved, to the maximum extent possible, in their child's education. Each day at Ries Elementary school, parents can be seen working throughout the building: reading with students, creating bulletin boards, and assisting with duties such as playground supervision and working in the Snack Shack. The administration prides itself on being available to students and parents and seeks to establish positive, meaningful relationships with the community. Our core belief that elementary school should be a fun place to be permeates every aspect of our instructional program. While parents are apprised of school events through monthly newsletters, they are encouraged to find out about our school by being here and taking an active role in making our school a wonderful place for kids.

Note: District totals do not include state or district sponsored charter school data.
